November Parenting Talk: Children in New Media

Media can shape the attitudes and behaviours of children in many ways - both positive and negative. With the proliferation of cyber space over the past decade, children today are exposed to varied forms of media with greater ease and intensity. In this session, we will highlight and discuss the current cyber space issues like online gaming, pornography, cyberbullying and the impacts on children. We will also share with you some of the strategies to cultivate good online and computer habits, and how to create a healthy cyber culture at home.

Speaker – Mr Calvin Ang is a FamilyMatters@ School approved trainer and an accredited facilitator for “Parenting With Confidence” workshops by Focus On The Family. He has developed and implemented preventive and intervention programmes for children, youth at risk and their families. He is managing the Sexuality Education and student development/support programmes that are conducted in schools and has extensive experience working with students/parents from his tenure as Subject Head in Bedok Green Secondary School for seven years. Calvin has a Graduate Diploma in Social Work from the National University of Singapore and is happily married with four children.
