Ukulele Fun for Fathers and Children!

Back by popular demand!! We are bringing you the 2nd run of Ukulele Fun (father-child bonding session) by TV host, Mervyn Goh!

When Mervyn’s not doing TV shows (OKTO’s award-winning show The Big Q, Can You Make Sense of This? Why Didn’t I Think of That?), he conducts Sentosa’s Beach Safety First Programme or goes to schools for assembly programmes like Citi’s ‘The Adventures of Agent Penny and Will Power’.

And of course, Mervyn also plays the ukulele! Fathers, your kids will love to take part in this with you! No prior musical experience required, just bring along your enthusiasm and join us on:

28 May 2016 (Saturday)
9am to 11am (registration starts at 8.45am)
HPPS, PAL Rooms 1 & 2

- This session is limited to 12 pairs of father-child. Registration fee: $10 per pair of father-child.
- Register with Shwu Fong (Coordinator, FamilyMatters@School) Email: ong_shwu_fong@moe.edu.sg or sms/call - 97705699
- To allow more families the opportunity to participate, 1 father can only bring 1 HPPS child. Should there be places available after the registration closing date, we’ll be glad to allow more children from each family to take part at a rate of $5 per child.
